Favorite Hikes in the Smokies

THERE ARE PLENTY OF HIKES IN THE SMOKIES, BUT HERE ARE A FEW OF OUR FAVORITES.

Grotto Falls

On this hike, you will be able to walk behind the waterfall. This hike is 2.6 miles round trip and its difficulty level is moderate due to the rocky terrain. This trail can be found off the Roaring Fork Motor Nature Trail.

Rainbow Falls Trail

The Great Smoky Mountain National Park has changed its rules about parking in the national Park. Now every car must have a parking pass. See the national park's website for more info.

Porter's Creek Trail

Take an afternoon to wander along Porter's Creek in Greenbrier. This trail is a large gravel path for the first mile and then splits. Along this trail, you can spot old rock walls and house foundations. You will also pass a small graveyard where some of the Ownby family is buried. The John Messer farm site is about 1 mile in on the right. The trail forks, follow the signs for Fern Branch Falls and you will end up with a wonderful view of the falls.

On sunny days a rainbow can be seen in the mist coming off of Rainbow Falls. This hike is 4.5 miles round trip and is considered moderately difficult. This trail is located off the Historic Nature Trail in Gatlinburg.
